

UpStream Art - Calling All Artists!

Artists Wanted

Love to paint? Want to help protect the health of local rivers?

For the second year, the City of Springfield is seeking local artists to paint murals on up to five storm drains in the downtown area to help raise awareness about the importance of protecting our rivers, stream habitat, and aquatic wildlife.

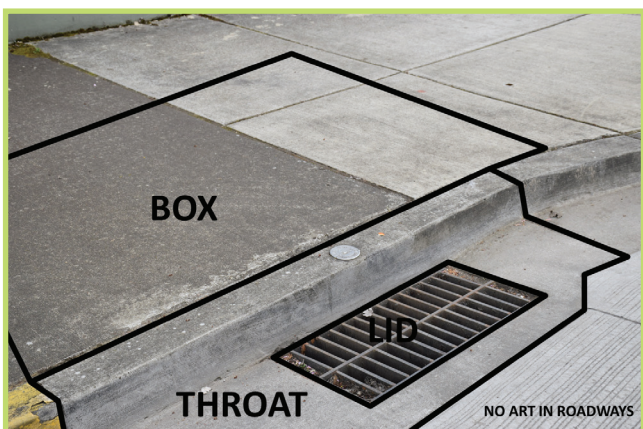

Artist: Bayne Gardner

What is UpStream Art?

The UpStream Art project provides a platform to creatively illustrate the importance of storm drains and their connection to our waterways.

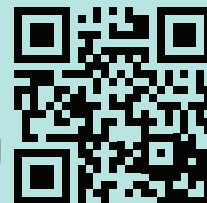

Artists selected to participate in UpStream Art will be provided with paints and a storm drain. They'll also be compensated for their art!

Artists must be available to start painting on the afternoon of Friday, August 11 and complete their artwork on August 12, 2017.

How to Apply

1. Visit springfieldstreams.org for more information
2. Create a sketch or graphic of your original design. The 2017 theme is "Only Rain Down the Drain"
3. Complete the Application Packet available at springfieldstreams.org
4. Submit Application Packet and design by 5 p.m., Monday, May 22

Questions? Email WaterResources@springfield-or.gov or call 541.726.3626